About PLANELOGIX

PLANELOGIX is a US-based company specialising in complete paper to record digital aircraft maintenance record conversion. The development of its solutions was driven by the fact that there was no easy and secure way to manage maintenance records, which were largely paper based. With PLANELOGIX solutions, records can easily be converted into a searchable digital format and securely backed up and stored. Once digitized, maintenance tracking, squawk management, and much more is possible through the app.
