Mackenzie Morgan comment

“As a dedicated aviation and aerospace B2B Platform, we were happy to join the Yocova community, providing us with the opportunity to showcase our skills and experience. The biggest strength we can bring a client, is nothing will phase us; we have seen everything from the shopfloor certifying and releasing aircraft for revenue through to the boardroom and exposure to investment decisions!

Look out for a new service offering of Interim Management, we can provide individuals who have been there, seen and have several “t-shirts”. When you go down the road of interim management, you want the right person with the right skill set and experience.”

Yocova comment

With collaboration and knowledge sharing at the very heart of Yocova, it’s fantastic to have Mackenzie Morgan join with their specialist knowledge and wealth of experience. And it’s great that airlines around the world will now be able to connect with them more easily and view plans and pricings via our platform.”
